Danielle Weslock has been named Volunteer of the Month by Volunteer Lawyers for Justice (VLJ). Danielle is a Commercial Litigator who handles residential and commercial mortgage foreclosures and a Rutgers-Newark Law graduate.

Danielle is a committed volunteer with VLJ across many programs. She took on her first VLJ pro bono matter as a summer associate in a case that made a lasting impression. Her client was a woman in her 70s accused long ago of stealing a scarf from Lord & Taylor. "She was the most appreciative client I've had in my entire career," Danielle shared, "and I've done a pro bono expungement every year since."
