

Keeping What's Yours: Bid Protest Defense & Intervention on Federal Contracts.

Deltek

02.24.2021

Related People:

Maria L. Panichelli

Maria Panichelli presents Deltek's webinar entitled "Keeping What's Yours: Bid Protest Defense & Intervention on Federal Contracts." In this panel, Maria provides a roadmap to defending against the protest, with guidance on keeping the contract you earned and your costs down. Plus, reasons for intervention, common bid protest defenses and strategies, and practical tips about how to mitigate risk.

In today's competitive federal contracting environment, protests are a frequent feature of many procurements. A government firm may receive an award notice, only to be told several days later that the contract is on hold, all because of a bid protest filed by a disgruntled competitor. Finding answers can be hard, and understanding how quickly to act to avoid losing your rights, or maybe the contract, is vital. Learn how to respond and protect yourself if your contract award is protested.