

Power Plants Coming to Electricity-Hungry Region

Baltimore Sun

07.13.2014

Developers haven't built a new power plant of any significance in Maryland for over a decade — one reason the state imports more electricity than almost any other in the country, racking up extra charges for consumers.