If this year has taught dealmakers anything – it's that previous market behaviors are not always the best indicators of future expectations. With a world-wide shift in both deal confidence and strategy, the ideas of normalcy and market recovery have been flipped on their head. So where should buyers and sellers be looking now to determine strategy for their own entry into the market?

Join Ansarada and Logisyn for a live panel discussion with seasoned Private Equity experts including Ron Leibman, Partner at McCarter & English, John Larkin, Operating Partner at Clarendon Capital, and John Q. Anderson, Partner at Greenbriar Equity Group as we look to discuss how the pandemic has impacted the current state of M&A and the strategic indicators being utilized by top Financial Buyers. We'll also discuss the role that technology can play in helping both buyers and sellers move quickly in a shifting market environment, and Nikhil Sathe, Managing Director at Logisyn will provide a unique perspective on the current state of deal making in the Logistics sector and the overarching impact this can have on deals across industries.
