Natalie Mantell moderates “Product Liability- 10 Years After Sinclair v. Merck,” a seminar sponsored by the New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education, a division of the New Jersey Bar Association. The program focuses on the far-reaching effects of Sinclair v. Merck, a seminal case in New Jersey product liability law in which the Court held that plaintiffs could not recover the costs of medical monitoring because they failed to allege a physical injury as required by the New Jersey Products Liability Act.
