

The Contract Coverage Standard and the Evolving Role of the National Labor Relations Board in Interpreting Collective Bargaining Agreements

Related People:
Hugh F. Murray, III

PLI Current

01.13.2022

McCarter partner Hugh Murray authored an article that looks at how the National Labor Relations Board's evaluation of an employer's unilateral change to terms and conditions of employment during the term of a collective bargaining agreement has changed over time, and what employers can expect from the Board and the courts going forward.