Sheri Pastor was a commentator at The Protection Gap in Property Insurance Program sponsored by Rutgers Law School and its Center for Risk and Responsibility. The full-day program starts at Rutgers Law School, Camden and focused on insurance protection gaps — those property losses that are insured vs. those that could or should be insured. Sheri discussed the cures for protection gaps on a panel with Jay Feinman and Robert Schindler (Rutgers); Laura Foggan (Crowell & Moring), Harold Weston (Georgia State), and Tom Considine (National Conference of Insurance Legislators).
